

Are you going to reach your target?

Do you think you are progressing well in this subject? Read through the following points to help to study better.

- ☐ Do you believe you contribute a lot to this class? If so, in what way?
- ☐ How often is your homework graded “A” and are your test grades high?
- ☐ If all of your homework isn’t graded “A” or your test grades low, what are the reasons why they aren’t?
- ☐ Do you give this subject enough time every week to be certain you understand every page of the textbook?
- ☐ Do you always complete all homework and class assignments yourself?
- ☐ Do you often go and talk to your teacher if there is a point you don’t understand?
- ☐ Is your teacher willing to answer other students’ questions?
- ☐ Which topics have you found most difficult in this subject?
- ☐ Have you checked the syllabus to make sure you know every part of it?
- ☐ Have you planned a revision schedule? (Check Chemistry for You, page 383 onwards for help)
- ☐ Have you asked a classmate to help you with these difficult topics?
- ☐ Are you now doing examination questions in your own time? (You should have been given a full set in September)
- ☐ Have you considered having a weekend tutor to explain this subject in your own language?
- ☐ What grade do you expect to obtain in next summer’s exams?
- ☐ Which subjects would you like to study next year?
- ☐ Do you require to pass this subject to finally go to university?
